

“Those who sow in tears shall reap in joy. He who continually goes forth weeping, bearing seed for sowing, shall doubtless come again with rejoicing, bringing his sheaves with him.”
Psalm 126 : 5, 6 nkjv

Where God Guides, He Provides

Recent discoveries in family ancestry revealed that our family’s American history began with the 1653 arrival of Pilgrim families seeking religious freedom. We also know from history that the first Pilgrims set aside a time for thanksgiving to God for arrival and survival in their new country. So, during our time of Thanksgiving reflection, let our hearts be filled with gratitude and praise that we are continuing to freely worship and share our faith with boys and girls, right here at home, through Happy Day Clubs!

Linda Reiniche, Director

We offer thanksgiving, for God has Provided...

- 20 after school Bible Clubs in 20 schools throughout Elkhart and LaGrange Counties.
- Happy Day Clubs in TOGO, West Africa.
- 1,000 Bibles purchased and prepared to give to each child in club.
- Hundreds of Bible covers sewn to carry Bibles given to children.
- 78 volunteers who study, teach the Word, and live their faith in Happy Day Club.
- Children, upon hearing the first lesson, responding to the gospel and receiving Jesus.
- A child seeking salvation at Model Happy Day Club saying, “I have never done that and I need to do it right now.”
- Freely given Mailbox Club discipleship lessons to seeking hearts.
- A school nurse willingly attending HDC, after school, in order that a special needs child might be able to attend club.
- 5 children from Model School staff that attend Happy Day Club.
- Tonita, an instant “YES” when asked to volunteer in Happy Day Club!
- Marilyn, a retired teacher, answering our immediate need for a volunteer in neighborhood school!
- A local principal who “officially invited” Happy Day Club to come to his school!
- Bible lessons and missionary stories taught weekly, demonstrating how all of us can share our faith in Jesus!

Dear friends, we are so very blessed and sense God’s continual provision as He guides us through 22 weeks of freely sharing the Truth throughout our local schools. We thank our God for you, brothers and sisters in faith, for your covering prayers, your continuing provision through giving, and your spirit to serve through going as we work together “reaching boys and girls for Jesus”.

Where God Guides, He Provides in TOGO, West Africa

Our TEAM TOGO has undergone extreme health challenges and political unrest in their homeland, TOGO. Our communication with Jacques SADAH continues to be periodic rather than a regular basis. Although our news agencies do not report much unrest in this nation, the BBC does help to keep us informed of the nation's trouble. In the meantime, Jacques has experienced health issues that will require "reeducation" for his stiffened knee. This rehab effort will hopefully help his injured knee to move freely again. Please pray for the men, Jacques, Yves, and Guy as they are attempting to open Happy Day Clubs once again, but waiting for the political unrest to settle.

Where God Guides, He Provides through Blessing

Child Evangelism Ministries received an unexpected invitation to be the recipient of blessings "poured out"! The women of First Baptist Church Bristol sponsor an annual Christmas Tea designed to pour blessings upon a mission—this year Child Evangelism Ministries will be the recipient! Ladies, mark your calendars today and reserve your place for this beautifully special "spot of tea". We thank you, First Baptist Church!

Where God Guides, He Provides . . . even while eating!

While attending a recent Missions Conference, I had the joy of sharing a carry in dinner with a 4 year old and his family. "Silas" asked for my knife to butter his roll. Carefully and precisely, he concentrated on getting enough butter onto the plastic knife. Back and forth he carefully smoothed the creamy butter on one side of the roll. By now the pat of butter was resting in his right hand and getting soft. On Silas labored, patiently attempting to butter the roll's other half. All at once, he stopped, looking at the small amount spread on his roll and then at the butter pat resting in his hand. Thinking and looking from butter to roll and roll to butter, Silas made his decision: his right hand filled with butter flew to his mouth and in it went! His buttering problem deliciously solved, Silas continued his enjoyment of eating. Where God Guides, He Provides . . . delightful times of laughter!
